

TWO KILLED IN FIGHT AT DANCE

Cisto Ortega and Wife Dead, David Albillar Injured, Patricio Telles Jailed.

Anthony, N. M., Oct. 2.—In a fight which took place during a dance in a school house in the extreme northern part of this district, Sunday, Cisto Ortega and his wife were killed and David Albillar, of the Berio district, was severely injured. Patricio Telles, constable of the precinct, was arrested following the tragedy and was taken to Las Cruces by deputy sheriffs Jose L. Lopez and Medina, charged with killing Ortega and his wife.

It is claimed by some of those who were present that a disturbance had occurred just outside the door of the school house and that Constable Telles entered the building on the plea of restoring order. Inside the building Ortega is said to have acted as peace maker and told Telles, it is claimed, that he would see to the crowd inside. Telles was pushed out of the door, it is said, and immediately after Ortega was shot through the heart. Telles then is said to have entered the school house through a window and was met by Albillar, who was beaten over the head with a gun, which exploded. Mrs. Ortega, according to the report, was bending over the body of her husband when she was shot and killed.

The crowd of dancers fled and the next morning at 5:30 Telles was put under arrest by deputy sheriff Lopez, on his arrival at the school house, where Telles, it is claimed, had remained outside the building through the night.

Bullet holes in the school house show that a number of shots had been fired and there are evidences that a considerable disturbance took place.

Billiard Ball Dropped On Fire Recruit's Head To Inure Him To Bricks

The water and brick tests, which are necessary for recruits to pass before they can be recognized as firemen at the central station, were administered by the members of the department to a recruit Monday night.

The brick test consisted of the dropping of a billiard ball from the second story of the building on the head of the recruit, who passed the test safely. The water test was likewise successful.

PURE RICH BLOOD PREVENTS DISEASE

Bad blood—that is, blood that is impure or impoverished, thin and pale—is responsible for more ailments than anything else.

It affects every organ and function. In some cases it causes catarrh; in others, dyspepsia; in others, rheumatism; and in still others, weak tired, languid feeling and worse troubles.

It is responsible for run-down conditions, and is the most common cause of disease.

Blood's Sarsaparilla is the greatest purifier and enricher of the blood the world has ever known. It has been wonderfully successful in removing scurf and other humors, increasing the red-blood corpuscles, and building up the whole system. Get it today.

BUY FURNITURE FOR COURT HOUSE

County Commissioners in Session This Afternoon to Award Contracts.

After inspecting samples of the goods offered until a late hour Monday night, the county commissioners this afternoon will meet to award a number of important contracts for furniture, electrical fixtures, seats, etc., for the new county courthouse.

"The best is none too good," was the slogan sounded by county commissioner Seth Orndorff. It is expected that contracts to be awarded will amount to approximately $150,000. As an indication that the courthouse will be equipped with the best furniture obtainable, is the virtual assurance given that the opera chairs of the auditorium will be of the "saddle" chairs, but it was pointed out that the latter are more comfortable and substantial. Four thousand chairs will be purchased for the auditorium, involving an expenditure of about $3000.

Few Bids Survive.

The bids on the woodwork, furniture, electric fixtures, ironwork, etc., have been narrowed down to two or three in each instance, and it is expected the awards will be speedily awarded when the commissioners meet this afternoon.

The crowd of dancers fled and the next morning at 5:30 Telles was put under arrest by deputy sheriff Lopez, on his arrival at the school house, where Telles, it is claimed, had remained outside the building through the night.

CITY BUYS OLD JAIL OF COUNTY

Mayor Saves City $100,000 Bond Issue; Jail Good for 40 Years.

The city of El Paso formally purchased the old El Paso county jail at public sale at the courthouse Tuesday morning for the sum of $12,500.

The county tentatively closed a deal with mayor Lea for the property several months ago, but the point was raised that the sale must be made to the highest bidder, so the property was advertised. Mayor Lea personally attended the sale Tuesday and bought in the property for the city.

As soon as the present county courthouse is completed, the county prisoners will be moved to the new jail, which is to be installed on the top floor of the courthouse. The city will then take charge of the county jail as a city prison and police station.

The purchase of the county jail will save the city the $100,000 in bonds to erect a new city prison, said mayor Lea, following the sale today of the property to the city. "The county jail will last the city of El Paso as a prison for the next 40 years. Our present city jail is wholly inadequate. The county jail was recently overhauled and largely added to and is in first-class condition. It was worth more to the city than any individual buyer, because we can use the buildings, while other purchasers could only have made use of the land."

ADCLUB TO HOLD FIRST FALL MEETING OCTOBER 4

A lecture on "Human Interest in Advertising" will be the headline at the first fall meeting and dinner of the adclub at the Hotel Sheldon, Wednesday evening at 6:45 o'clock. President A. E. Rowlands expects a large attendance.

The lecture is compiled by R. A. Wynne of the Crowell advertising agency of Dallas, and A. I. Shuman with the El Worth Star-Telegram, of the same city. This lecture points out the value and use of time in advertising. Accompanying it are many illustrations showing how human interest has been given to advertising by reference to events of contemporary importance. The point is made that advertising in a great degree, is business news; that it should be presented with careful reference to the human interest aspect of the article advertised, and that should be embodied wherever possible by the use of broad matters of current human interest, with which the advertising can properly be associated.

H. B. McClintock has prepared a special talk on "The Obligation of the Space Seller to the Public and to the Advertiser." B. K. Hinnaford will have a few things to say about the farm congress.

DOG BITES OFFICER; IS SHOT; ITS OWNER IS FINED $25

A fine of $25 was assessed against Tashel Barron, accused of keeping a vicious dog, Tuesday morning in police court by Judge Paul D. Thomas. The arrest of Barron, who resides at 508 South El Paso street, followed an attack by the dog on Joe Molinary, assistant city sanitary commissioner, when Molinary entered the back yard of the Barron home Monday morning to inspect a pile of trash. The dog, according to evidence before the court, sprang at Molinary and severely lacerated his hands. Patrolman Tom York later killed the animal.

CAR RIOT CASES RESUMED; JURY IS BEING OBTAINED

The street car riot cases were resumed Tuesday morning before Judge Adrian Pool in the county court, when E. C. Smith was placed on trial on a charge of riot and unlawful assembly in an attack August 11 on a Highland Park street car. The morning session was adjourned in efforts to obtain a jury.

In the absence of county attorney C. W. Croom, the case is being conducted by Frank Peelle, assistant county attorney.

J. W. Cole, one of the defendants in the Highland Park case, was convicted a fortnight ago by a jury before Judge Pool and was fined $250. An appeal has been taken in his case.

Trials on Labor day came up before Judge Pool, Monday, on hearsay corpus proceedings brought in behalf of Mike O'Brien and J. W. Jordan. They were released on their own recognizance to await trial at the November term of court.

Novel Feature With the Barnum & Bailey Circus Here Thursday.

THOSE who have wondered if the results of patience and skill had been reached in the training of animals, both wild and domestic, will have new cause to be amazed when the Barnum and Bailey circus comes to El Paso on Thursday, according to Dexter Fellows, press agent, who reached El Paso today. He declares that this season more than ever before the circus has specialized in animal acts. The English "Cat and Mouse Act" designed to keep the militant suffragists from voluntarily surrendering in jail is not the model for "Lady Alice," wonderful performance with rats, cats and pigeons, which will be seen by the circus.

Described as a stunningly beautiful woman, attired in a charming evening gown, will greet her long-tailed rodent pets, together with the hereditary foes in the shape of cats, through their stunts all in and out and around about a wealth of gilded apparatus, including ladders, treadmills and swings.

Throughout the entire performance there is no fracture of continuity, although "Lady Alice" confided to a recent interviewer that the rat contingent of the act had to be frequently replenished. "Lady Alice" was formerly an actress, playing ingenue parts with several of the big road companies. At that time the rats were the only animals which she now directs, were the sole property and act of a male man. Then "Lady Alice" married, met and fell in love with the rat act, playing on the same program, and one can easily guess what followed—yes, they were married. Now comes the marriage ceremony. Mr. Graham is a Denver man and Colorado is a suffrage state. The name of the act was instantly changed from "Lady Alice's Pets" and Graham, the original and patient trainer of the act, modestly stepped from without the spotlight, citing that enviable position to his wife.

Other of the trained animal acts with the circus include equestrian fox terriers and baboon-poller-skating and bicycle-riding bears who enter into their sports as if they were getting the money for it themselves—somersaulting parrots and cockatoos who dance the tango and ride bikes—an elephant brass band—a horse ballerina, in which the trained horse dances in time and tun with graceful and pretty girls, and many other items in which animals vie with their human collaborators in the "white top" in accomplishing interesting and unusual stunts.
